HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO OCTOBER 5.

Memphis Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 5.—President Ames Woodruff and Superintendent Sam. B. Jones of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad have resigned. J. F. Boyd succeeded the latter.

G. E. Matthews, a prominent young lawyer, died suddenly yesterday of erysipelas.

Montreal Dispatch.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—A grand and great independence meeting was held at Waterloo on Saturday. John Young and several others spoke in favor of independence.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—No quorum was present in the Supreme Court again to-day.

E. T. McGee, Collector of the Sixth District of Tennessee, has mysteriously disappeared. It is feared he has been assassinated.

A squad of cavalry in one of the district of Virginia, seized forty stills and about one thousand gallons of spirits, and arrested thirty-five men found operating stills.

Virginia Legislature.

RICHMOND, Oct. 5.—The House met at noon and temporarily organized, and adjourned till to-morrow. One member protested against any officer temporarily or permanently taking his seat, who has not taken the iron clad oath. The Senate assembled, the Lieutenant Governor presiding. Its organization has not been completed, but it has been agreed upon in caucus.

The Late Storms.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—The water at Fairmount dam has receded six feet since yesterday. The streets are nearly dry but covered with mud and debris left by the water. Hundreds of cellars are filled. At the large establishments steam fire engines are engaged in pumping out the water.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 5.—That portion of Bethlehem between the Lehigh river and Monocacy creek is under water. An immense quantity of valuable lumber was swept away. Weissport is completely inundated. The iron bridge opposite the Mansion House, Mauch Chunk, is swept away. Thirty-seven coal barges went over the dam at that point and were completely wrecked. Broadway is entirely under water and several houses were washed into the stream. The booms at White Haven are all broken and great rafts of timber are floating down. The loss to the lumbermen of White Haven is very heavy. The Lehigh Valley Railroad at Catarqua is washed away. The Lehigh and Susquehannah Railroad sustains heavy damages.

ALBANY, Oct 5.—The water in this city is still over the docks. Broadway is navigated in small boats. Nearly all the basements and cellars east of Green street are flooded.

TROY, Oct. 5.—The flood was unprecedented. The water in the Hudson is eighteen feet above low water mark. Great destruction of property occurred in this city. The mills being greatly damaged. Up north the country is flooded. Three houses were carried away at Mechanicsville and a woman named Humphreys was drowned. A Frenchman at Fort Ann was drowned, and three men were drowned in the Hudson at this city last night.

Two accidents occurred on the Troy and Boston Railroad last night. The first was a collision between a freight and passenger train. Three employes were injured. The latter, the same passenger train was thrown into Hoosac river at Hoosac Falls by a wash in the railroad track. Three lives were lost, and the conductor was seriously injured.

The loss to the West Troy lumbermen by the freshet will reach one hundred thousand dollars.

SARATOGA, Oct. 5.—Accounts from the surrounding country say the storm on Sunday night and Monday morning did more damage than ever before known. Scarcely a bridge on the country roads has been left in good condition. Great damage was done at Alston, Pa., and one boy was drowned.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 5.—The most commentable consequences of the flood in this vicinity is the giving way of the great dam over the Housatonic river, at Birmingham. Two weeks work would have completed the structure. Three hundred feet have been destroyed. More than half the labor of two years is swept away. One man was drowned.

HARTFORD, Oct. 5.—Reports of the damage by the storm continue to come in. The damage in all parts of the State is very great. The town of Manchester suffered more severely than any other place. Not a bridge is left in the town, and not a water wheel is running there to-day. The loss to mill dams and property is estimated at $30,000; the loss in roads and bridges the same amount. Chester & Bros' loss is $100,000 in which is included one hundred pieces of silk worth $16,000 or $20,000. At Broad Brook the old factory building, occupied as a tinshop below and a tenament house above, was swept away. A young man and five children were drowned. A man was also drowned at Higganams.

AUGUSTA, Me., Oct. 5.—The storm has not yet abated. The river is very high and rising rapidly. Every boom between here and Waterville is broken. The rise in the Androscoggin river is unprecedented, and several millions of logs have gone over the falls. J. M. Thompson, proprietor of the Glenn House, White Mountains, was drowned in the mill and carried away by the flood.

Tunnel Under Detroit River.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Application will be made to the Canadian Parliament to incorporate a company for the purpose of building a tunnel under Detroit river to connect the Great Western with the Michigan Central.

The Brooks' Assassins Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—Three men engaged in the recent assault on officer Brooks, have been arrested in New York. All have been identified and one has voluntarily confessed.

Flood in New York.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Reports of damage by flood increase. In four counties on the Hudson, the damage cannot fall short of $3,000,000. There are several serious breaks in the Delaware and Hudson canal, including one of one hundred feet and another of one hundred and ten feet. In the county bridges and barns are swept away, and whole fields of grain are destroyed. Nearly every bridge in Green county is gone. Reports from Dutchess county are also bad. The track of the Hudson River Railroad north of Stuyvesant is covered with water to the depth of fifteen inches for a long distance.

The Flood in Maine.

LEWISTON, Me., Oct. 5.—The Long Tom bridge across the Kennebec at Waterville, was washed away. The loss by the flood is estimated at $150,000.

The Administration and Cuba.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Tribune purports to give the views of the Administration with regard to the Cuban question. It says the shipment of arms and munitions of war by either party is not prohibited. The revolutionists have an equal right to buy and ship arms with the Spaniards. The neutrality laws prohibit the fitting out of military or naval expeditions. We constantly bought arms in England during the rebellion, and nobody questioned the right of England to sell them to us or to the Confederates, or to blockade runners. They took their own risk of capture, but the Alabama was fitted out as a ship of war to destroy our commerce. The recognition of Cuban independence would not alter the law.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Horace Greeley says he could not accept the Virginia Senatorship, and asks the press to forbear naming him as a candidate for any office.

It is stated that Jay Gould to-day sent notice to Mr. Corbin, President Grant's brother-in-law, that unless he settles to-day for the differences on three millions of gold and two millions of stocks, bought and sold for Corbin and associates, proceedings will be instituted. It is claimed the differences amount to one half a million. Corbin, who is seriously ill, is preparing a statement in reply to Fisk's letter. His friends deny that he had any communication whatever with Fisk on financial subjects.

The jewelry store of Bishop & Reins, under the Fifth Avenue Hotel, was robbed of $28,000 or $30,000 worth of diamonds.

A few Western mails have arrived, but they are still very irregular. The land wires connecting with the English cable are still down.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Jersey City and Hudson City voted yesterday, by a large majority, to consolidate as one city. The other towns of Hudson county, including Hoboken, voted against the measure and to remain out of the consolidation.

HARTFORD, Oct. 6.—Twenty-two towns heard from elect Republican officers, and eighteen are Democratic. Six towns are divided.

St. Louis Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—Gov. Pile of New Mexico has returned here from Washington. He emphatically denies the statement telegraphed from that city that he had requested the President to recall Mr. Blow from Brazil and appoint him in his place.

The attendance at the Fair to-day was very large. The various departments were all filled and the exhibition is in every respect greatly superior to any preceding one.

Fisk to be Sold Out.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Sheriff has appraised the grand Opera House, attached at the suit of several parties, against Fisk, Jr., at a million dollars. The capias in the suit of Brown against Fisk and Gould was not served, the officers being unable to find the defendants.

Pittsburg Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 5.—The Commissioners of the Board of Foreign Missions commenced the 60th annual session here to-day. Dr. Mark Hopkins, of Williams College, presided. The financial statement shows the indebtedness of the society to be about $6,600. The report of the missionary operations show that there are 860 laborers in the field, who report uniform cheering progress.

Tennessee Legislature.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 5.—The Senate completed its organization to-day, but the House adjourned with its organization incomplete. It will organize fully to-morrow, when Governor Senter will probably send in his message. It is understood he will recommend the calling of a convention to amend the constitution to remove all political disabilities and urge the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment; a modification of the school system, and payment of the State debt. The Senatorial question continues to excite great interest. A. Johnson, who is here, is evidently the strong man, and his supporters are confident of his election.

Virginia Legislature.

RICHMOND, Oct. 5.—The Senate elected the officers nominated in caucus. One member entered a protest against dispensing with the ironclad oath. Both parties in the House are holding caucuses to-night. They had not adjourned at midnight. The object of the Wells men is to charge the candidate for Speaker (White), who was nominated for that position, with having challenged Gen. Butler when in Richmond. White has withdrawn and the names of Henshaw, Green and Kelly are being discussed.

The Privateer Hornet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—A private telegram from Wilmington (N. C.) states that the United States officers say it is not probable that the Hornet will be surrendered to the Cubans. An official account of the seizure is expected to-morrow, upon which the Government will take action.

Information is received here that a Cuban expedition of 400 men is about to leave the vicinity of New York.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 5.—The case of the Cuban privateer was taken before Commissioner Rutherford to-day. The parties were arraigned on the charge that they accepted and exercised a commission to serve a foreign people in time of war and fitted out and armed within the limits of the United States a vessel to be employed in the people of Cuba to cruise and commit hostilities against the people of Spain, a country with which we are at peace, against the statutes, &c. The Government is not pressing matters. The party are not required to give bonds, but were placed in the custody of the United States Marshal, who released them on their personal assurance that they would not leave. The counsel for the Government asked for a continuance to allow time to procure witnesses from Washington to New York. The counsel for the defense contended that the United States had no right to hold them, the vessel being commissioned by the regularly organized Government of the Republic of Cuba; that the ship put into Smithville in distress and that it was contrary to the laws of nations to detain her. Commissioner Rutherford decided that it was a "prima facie" case and granted the Government till the 11th instant to procure witnesses.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Berlin papers predict that the speech of King William, on the opening of the North German Parliament, will be decidedly pacific.

MADRID, Oct. 5.—Martial law is proclaimed in Andalusia and Catalonia.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Thos. Ausbro has been reappointed Deputy United States Marshal for the District of California. He filled the same office during the administration of Marshal Rand.

The ship Onward, which arrived in this port to-day from Unalaska, reports that on the 2d inst., when fifty miles west of Mendocino, at 12 o'clock midnight, a severe shock of earthquake was experienced, which caused those on board to suppose a rock had been struck. No damage was sustained.

The Spring Valley Water Company have shut off the supply of water from the public places because the city would not pay for it.

In the United States Circuit Court, William A Quarles, administrator of the estate of Daniel T. Raymond, deceased, brings suit against the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York for five thousand dollars, policy of life insurance on the life of deceased Raymond.

A man named Rondell, sues the Alameda Railroad Company for one thousand dollars damages for refusing to carry himself and family from the wharf to San Leandro.

The case of Alfred Welch vs. Ah Hand, et. al. to recover sixty-two thousand five hundred dollars damages, for an alleged breach of contract, was brought up in the Fourth District Court to-day. It is expected that the question of the defendant's rights to testify, (being Chinamen), will be brought up by plaintiff's counsel.

The ship Dreadnought, from Liverpool for this port, was wrecked July 4th off Cape Penas Island, near the Straits of Lamaire. She was owned by John Parrott, of this city, who purchased her about a year ago.

The next steamer for China will be the America, to sail November 4th. This new steamer is now on her way from Hong Kong.

Blame Misplaced.

Some journals are, unjustly, as we think, casting blame upon Secretary Boutwell for what he has done or failed to do in connection with the gold speculation. So far as these animadversions have gone to the extent of intimating dishonesty or selfish schemes, they must be dismissed as unworthy of comment, in view of the high character of the Secretary; and such insinuations could have sprung only from those who sustain [illegible] from unexpected losses. The only [illegible] ground of blame is that Boutwell was forewarned of the speculation, and that he hesitated to act, or failed to do the right thing at the right time. At the worst, such an error would be one of judgment only, and not of intent. We suspect that those who find such error do not consider the nature and limitations of Boutwell's powers. He is not able, like his predecessors, to sell gold at will and secretly; but a recent law has obliged him to advertise the amount to be sold and the time when. His intentions, being thus made public, can be taken into the calculations of the speculators, who, if they choose, can drop the price temporarily and absorb his gold. He is, therefore, to be deprived by law of the ability to take advantage of speculative rise for the benefit of the Government. We know of no other interest in which he is justified to act. This [illegible] tion is purely a private conspiracy, and the Secretary is certainly not responsible for, nor called to heal, the hurts received by those engaged. It turns out in this case that both bulls and bears were badly disappointed. The [illegible] operators were in danger of wreck upon the [illegible] they raised, and if the small fry ventured in, whose fault was it but their own? The Secretary can be expected only to regard first and foremost the necessities and profit of the Treasury itself, and after that, or in connection with that, to extend what help he can to men dealing with the Government. Since he cannot by open sale throw his gold into the whirlpool of speculation to any advantage, he can scarcely be blamed for not doing so. It would appear that he ought to have restored to him the former power to sell at private sale. It is a power to be used with great discretion; but, without it, the Secretary can do little to prevent such speculations as we have witnessed. He should also have the power to sell customs certificates for greenbacks at the general average exchangeable value of the latter, say seventy-five cents on the dollar. This would steady the price of imported goods, and give business men a reliable criterion by which to gauge it [illegible].

We repeat that the speculation being thoroughly artificial, the Secretary has no responsibility to help anybody concerned in it; and that his legal powers are adequate to enable him to take advantage of such fictitious rise of [illegible] for the benefit of the Treasury. That the present rise in gold is entirely unnatural is obvious. Exchange on Europe is selling all the while at rates which are under par. The flow of gold this [illegible] is larger than in 1868 or 1867. From January 1st to September 1st the specie imports at the port of New York were $9,375,621; for the same period in 1868 they were $3,642,991; and for 1867 only $2,263,963. There is scarcely a possibility that any "corner" in gold, however large, can last long in this state of things. The larger it is the more danger of ruin to those [illegible], for, every one knowing that the fall depends not upon any natural cause but upon the arbitrary word of command, the instant it begins it [illegible], and there is small chance for any one to relieve or "cover." We doubt very much the propriety of Secretary Boutwell listening to any entreaties from persons engaged in this business. There seems to be no objection to his buying all he can by sales at high premiums; but, in order to do that he must not be obliged to advertise his intentions a week in advance. He appears to have done as well as he could under the circumstances, or at least to have meant as well, and to have acted with his usual regard for the duties of his office.—Sacramento Union.

Koopmanschap.

HIS RETURN TO THE METROPOLIS—INTENTIONS REGARDING THE FUTURE.

[From the New York Times, Sept. 28.]

Mr. C. Koopmanschap, of San Francisco, is in this city making arrangements for bringing to this country, in 1870, a supply of Chinese laborers. After visiting the West he will [illegible] on Nov. 4th, for China, to return in the spring of 1870, bringing with him as many Celestials as he may have contracted for.

These laborers will not be coolies, as Mr. Koopmanschap disavows any idea of being connected with the coolie trade, but voluntary immigrants who agree to the terms offered by him and who come hither with the full knowledge and [illegible] of the Chinese authorities for the purpose of bettering their pecuniary condition. A contract has already been closed with the Texas Land Company, of which Mr. P. N. Spofford, of the firm of Spofford, Tileston & Co., of this city, is the President, for supplying five thousand Chinamen to work on the lands owned by the Company in Texas.

Another contract has been made with a leading land-owner in Mississippi to supply several hundred laborers for that State. The price paid for coolie labor is about $4 per month, while Mr. Koopmanschap's Chinamen are to receive an average of $10 per month and found; and those employed to work on railroads will get $15 per month and found. Mr. Koopmanschap goes to Washington to-day to explain his project to the Federal authorities, and to correct the impression entertained by some that he designs to import coolies or others who are not free, voluntary immigrants. He avows that his only desire is to provide the means and found a system whereby a much-needed supply of laborers may be furnished for tilling the now waste lands of the South, and for meeting the demand for labor that exists on all the lines of railroad projected and building in the West. From Washington, Koopmanschap goes to St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans, where he expects to enter into further contracts. He has already supplied the Central Pacific and other railroads with Chinese laborers to the number of 30,000, and holds certificates from the officers of these Companies showing that they have given ample satisfaction to their employers. On his return from China, Mr. Koopmanschap will bring hither about 5,000 Orientals as his first contribution to the labor supply market.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 7, 1869.

Masculine Prudes.

Even the Democratic papers of Oregon are fiercely assailing Mrs. Stowe in long editorials for her article in the Atlantic on Lord Byron. It is observable that none of them omit this opportunity to have another fling at Uncle Tom's Cabin. They are horrified at the revelation concerning Byron, because it is made by Mrs. Stowe; but had the same article emanated from another pen they would never have noticed it. The Salem Press has just discovered the Atlantic Monthly article, and attacks it and its author with all the billingsgate of dyspeptic senility. "The writer of this," says the Press, thanks God that he has lived long enough to see at last one piece of retributive justice. "No one believes Mrs. Stowe." Now if this is all he has to "thank God for," he might as well have quit the world long ago. For it is not true that "no one believes Mrs. Stowe." Her statements have obtained very wide credit in England. It is curious to observe that while such papers as the Salem Press and the Coos County Record, published by literary celebrities away out here in Oregon, grow furious and frantic in uttering their condemnations of Mrs. Stowe for publishing a story "which no woman of decent sensibilities could write," many leading English papers accept the story as true and commend Mrs. Stowe for publishing it. The great London Times approves her article and the motives which induced her to give it to the world, and declares that Byron's character is so infamous that it feels as if it could never open his poems again. The London News accepts the narrative and approves of its publication. The Saturday Review analyzes Moore's memoirs, and finds in them great corroboration of the narrative. It thinks the history in its essence is more likely to be true than not, and mentions various independent circumstances which invest the story with a high degree of probability. The virtuous indignation which is expressed in America against this publication meets with scarcely a response in the leading journals of England. But then these English journals are so tame and spiritless compared with the great and powerful Oregon journals we have named!

The Salem Press says: "It is likely enough that Lady Byron never spoke to Mrs. Stowe, at any rate her libellous words against a pure woman cannot give her the standing with the British aristocracy, for which end they were invented. Let the old Tabby be hung." The London Times says: "The daylight has thus at last streamed in on the stage romance of Lord Byron's life, has struck the thin tinsel and dirty paint, and now the curtain may be dropped, and the play still dragging on, put an end to. As far as Lord Byron himself is concerned, we do not regret it. Truth is truth, and we would sooner know him for what he was than to take him for what he might have been."

Readers can take their choice of these authorities. It may be that there are some who would prefer the Salem Press to the London Times!

As so many of the Democratic papers of this region have gone into this subject, we shall naturally expect to see the party devote a plank to it in their platform next year.

Dependence of Agriculture on Manufactures.

It is a proposition that will command universal assent that the nearer the place of production is to the place where products are consumed, the larger will be the profits of those by whom the products are supplied. This principle illustrates the advantage of a home market for agricultural products, which can be supplied only by building up manufacturing industries. So long as all the dwellers in a particular region are agriculturalists, each possesses only those commodities which every member of the community has for sale; consequently buyers must be sought at a distance and at a great cost for transportation. When, however, manufactures are introduced into any farming region a new class of people spring up who become the consumers of the surrounding planters and create a home market for the products of soil. These are statements of very obvious facts, but they should by no means be despised, since they explain the situation of affairs in Oregon and show what is wanting to make our State great and prosperous. By diversified industry the sterile lands of New England have been made to blossom as the rose. The people there saw the brilliant advantages of a diversified industry in its bearings upon the well-being of agriculture, and the result is that manufactures have prospered immensely and a soil naturally poor has been stimulated to uncommon productiveness. What may we not accomplish with our rich soil, joined with unsurpassed facilities for engaging in almost every branch of manufacturing industry? Only we need remember that agriculture is largely dependent for its prosperity on manufactures, and that we cannot build it up in its highest perfection while we are obliged to rely entirely on distant markets.

In General.

The vote of Maine in the recent election was as follows: Chamberlain, (Republican) 50,901; Smith, (Democrat) 37,277; Hichborn, (Prohibition,) 842. Chamberlain's majority over both his competitors, 7,982. The Republican majority, adding Chamberlain's and Hichborn's vote, is 17,266.

The New York World points out the way in which the Fifteenth Amendment may be nullified, but thinks it will not be necessary for the South to resort to such revolutionary means, as present indications show that the negroes will ultimately vote the Democratic ticket. Of course this would make negro suffrage all right!

The San Francisco Examiner recently published an article predicting the speedy downfall of this city. The Portland Herald, not to be outdone in wise vaticination, retorts with an article in which it calls San Francisco "a doomed city," and predicts the early decay of that metropolis. Wise organs! Equally wise organs!

There was once a theory that white labor was inadequate to evoke the wealth of the South, and that white people could not work in that section. But time—terrible iconoclast—smashes the Southern idols, one after another, with remorseless hand. Two hundred thousand white men are now cultivating cotton in South Carolina alone.

Opposition journals continue to assert that the resolution of the National Republican Convention, in which it is declared that "the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States," is an estoppel to all argument in favor of the Fifteenth Amendment. They ought to know that the right to amend the Constitution also belongs to the States. The resolution of the National Convention had reference solely to the question of Congressional interference in the States. It in nowise committed the Republican party against an attempt to alter the Constitution so that the right of suffrage would not properly belong to the States.

Secretary Boutwell, when in New York recently, said that there were two things necessary to give our country the strongest and most enviable position in the world. These were, first, to secure the payment of the national debt in gold, without qualification or equivocation, and secondly, to secure the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment, neither of which events was he disposed to consider in doubt.

Gardiner J. Hubbard of Boston, the leading advocate of the postal telegraph system, in his recent speech at San Francisco favored the idea that at first the Government—instead of purchasing the lines—should contract with the owners of the wires for their use; and, by furnishing each Post Office with the necessary apparatus and operators, thus bring the whole system under the control of the Postmaster General. He thinks a message of twenty words from New York to the Pacific coast should cost about one dollar.

Several California journals state that Capt. Moss, proprietor of the San Francisco Examiner, employs fifty Chinese laborers on a farm which he is working. The Examiner admits the truth of the statement, but pretends that other laborers cannot be obtained. Yet that paper before the late election bitterly denounced its political opponents for employing Chinese when they could get no other laborers! This is a fair illustration of Democratic humbugging. Democrats always employ Chinese when they think it to their interest to do so.

We hope no person in Oregon will fail to read the remarks of Senator Sumner on the financial situation, which we publish to-day. The statements he presents are exceedingly powerful. They show that the high rate of interest we are compelled to pay on our bonded debt is due to schemes of repudiation which are broached among us, and that the only way for the country to maintain its credit and prosperity is to keep faith with those to whom it has given its promises. It is a rare thing to find these truths presented in so forcible a way as Senator Sumner has given them.

The Owyhee Tidal Wave wants to know how it is that the "Radicals" have complete control of the telegraph? Nearly every Democratic paper has something to say of Radical management of telegraphic affairs, and growls about not receiving the news. Has the Democratic party no members with sense enough to act as director of a telegraph company, or as agent for the Associated Press? Democratic as well as Republican papers are in these associations. It appears to be a chronic habit of Democratic newspapers to whine and sniffle over some fancied abuse being practiced upon them by those terrible Radicals. Verily, they are a poor helpless set of innocents, to allow the Radicals to gobble up every avenue of intelligence, when telegraphic as well as every other public enterprise is free for all alike to engage in if they choose.

The Polk County Times asserts that "ninety-five out of every hundred Democrats in Oregon are in favor of calling this debt already paid (as in truth it really is) and of liquidating the bonds and of doing justice to the taxpayers by a sweeping act of repudiation;" and that there is "no Democrat who is fool enough to favor such a gross outrage upon the taxpayers of the land and such a huge swindle in favor of the bondholders as would be perpetrated by the payment of these bonds in gold." But though, as this Democratic authority tells us, ninety-five per cent. of its party is in favor of repudiation pure and simple, and not one member of the party is in favor of honestly paying the debt, it further says that it would not have these doctrines avowed in the platform next year for fear of defeat. This is equivalent to saying that there are Democrats who would pay the debt faithfully and honestly, and who would not vote with a repudiation party. This we know to be true. We do not doubt that a majority of the party, as the Polk county paper asserts, favor repudiation; but knowing that they could not carry the honest members of the party with them on that issue, they will not dare to avow it in their platform.

FRESHEST GLEANINGS.

Bonnets are half an inch bigger.

Chinese servants have reached Fifth Avenue.

The Russian capital isn't going to be changed.

A Democratic journal without intending to be facetious, recommends the assembling of the National Democratic Executive Committee to devise means for preventing fraud in taking the census in 1870. This is really an excellent joke.

The Scotch have erected a national monument at Stirling in honor of the heroic William Wallace. So there are Scotsmen left who are sufficiently appreciative of what was done and suffered for their country, as to raise a monument to the memory of one who died nearly 600 years ago!

Sir Samuel Baker's expedition to the source of the Nile, it is announced, started on August 18th. The army of exploration consists of 1,700 men; the baggage, store and merchandise to be used in the trade with the natives have been sent on in advance. Sir Samuel Barker, with his personal staff and Lady Baker, were to leave in a few days.

George Francis Train says he has done lecturing for charity. Ten years of such Christian work earned for him the name of "mountebank," "charlatan," "lunatic." Now he is on the make. Money is the thing. He loves God less and men more every day of his life. He is going to be President, and he defies Church or party, club or anybody else to beat him.

The Duke of Genoa, about whose prospects for the Spanish throne so much is said now-a-days, is a boyish-looking youth of 15, seemingly with no blood in his veins, with dark, sentimental eyes, small hands and feet, and always dressed in the highth of fashion. His mother is still a very good-looking lady, and scandalous reports in Turin and Florence say that she is the favorite mistress of her uncle, King Victor Emanuel. The King of Italy, at all events, is a great deal in the company of the Dutchess, and the very affectionate manner in which he treats the lady, even in the presence of strangers, gives some color to the disparaging rumors that have been circulated in the above-mentioned respect.

A curious fact connected with the circumstances under which the Queen's Proclamation of neutrality was issued on the 13th of May, 1861, has come to light in the correspondence covering the belligerency question, which was submitted to the Senate at its last session, and which is now being put in print under the direction of the State Department. It seems that at the time it was issued, to wit, the 13th of May, the British Government had actually not received the official notice of the proclamation of blockade by President Lincoln, which was made the pretext for the declaration. This official copy was not received until the 14th of May, and all the notice the British Government had was a printed copy transmitted by Lord Lyons, cut from the Intelligencer of this city, which was received May 12th at the Foreign Office. The London papers of May 2d had also printed from the New York papers of April 23d, an abstract of the proclamation, but there was no official notice of the action of our Government before the British Cabinet when they resolved upon the hasty and ill-considered course.

NASBY.

MOCK CHUNK (wich is in the State uv Pensilvany), Sept. 11, 1869.

At last I hev struck a haven uv rest. At last I hev a shoor abidin place, for a time at least. How long I may stay or how soon I may be compelled to pick up my landlord's spare shirt and travel, I kan't tell. But what do I care? For the present I am under the wing uv a man hoo has twenty millions uv dollars, and hoo is yoosin it at a terrific rate. Some few uv the golden shower is a fallin onto me, and I am content. That is, I am content personally. I am es well off ez I could be. I hev twice penetrated the august presence uv the Democratic candidate for Guvner uv Pensilvany, representing myself ez President uv a Democratic Club in Philadelfy, and twice hev I received a hundred dollars to carry on the good work. The young man wich gards the dwter dore uv the kandidatorial manshen is a most acoot judge uv human nacher. The servant at the door askt for credenshels, at wich the young man, who happened to be in the hall, notisin me, rebuked him for delayin me.

"Terrance!" remarkt he sharply, "admit all sich noses without question. You bet they are our friends."

That nose hez cost me thousands of other people's dollars to keep it up in color. Thank Heaven, its repayin me some uv the trouble I hev gone to on its account.

I am well enuff off, and possibly ought to be satisfied, but the condishen uv the Dimocrisy affex me. The fact is, we are in a bad way, and ther ain't no way out uv it. We ain't got no yoomanity—we ain't got nothin' to lie for, and the country hez had universally good crops. The wether's bin agin us. If we cood hev hed rain in harvest enuff to hev rusted the wheat, and enuff follerin the wheat harvest to hev rotted the pertaters, and a juicy attack of cholera yaller fever, and other disorders uv that nacher, so that the people cood hev got dissatisfied and ugly and sich, ther wood hev bin some hopes for us. The pertato rot in Western Pennsylvania wood hev made thousands of votes this Fall alone. But wat's the yoose uv talking to farmers with tears in your eyes up a country going to rooin, when every mother's son uv 'em hev ther pockets stuffed with greenbax and a barn full of what's to bring more? Wat's the yoose of clamorin' for change when the country is doin' ez well ez it kin enny how?

Then, agin, our management hez bin friteful. In Ohio, we made a boggle at the beginnin, in the nomenashen of Rosecranz. It wuzn't in the nachur uv things for our patriots who had shot officers sent out by this Rosecranz to arrest their sons which had taken bounty and Lett deserted to Canada, to vote for Rosecranz, particklerly ez hundreds uv 'em hed bin dragged to bastiles for emptyin their rifles at 'em. The hurrahs stuck in their throats. I must confess that they made a brave attempt at it, but they looked sick while they did it. Their efforts to hurrah for Rosecranz, and they face the, made uv it, reminded me uv an insident wich occured to me wunst.

I had a friend whose name it was Brown, who wuz given to indulgence in the flowin bole to a fearful extent. Wun nite he attempted to be convivel on a new bran uv whisky, and it floored him. At 11 P. M. I found him clinging to a lamppost and vomitin ez tho ther wuz a miniatoor earthquake into his insides.

"Brown!" remarked I, layin my hand affectionately onto his shoulder, "Brown, are you sick?"

"Sick! Sick!" replied he, swingin around to the other side uv the post and dischargin another avalanch. "Sick! h—l! do you think I'm doin this for the fun uv the thing?"

Our Democrats in Ohio swallered Rosecrans, but their hurrahs were so much like the retchin uv a man with a load onto his stumick, that it reminds me uv my old friend Brown.

In Pennsylvania we aint much better off. Our candidate hez pints about him. He wuz a Copperhead durin the war, wich makes all uv that class of Democrats enthusiastic in his support; but, on the other hand, it drives off the war Democrats, without wich we aint worth shucks. He hes money, though, and ez he's bleeding freely he may keep the organization alive till we kin make a fire with a man wich we kin elect.

The principle trouble is, however, to find out wat Democracy is at this juncter. In Ohio it's agin nigger-ekality and in favor uv payin off the bonds in greenbacks or repudiashun; in Tennessee it's nigger suffrage and nigger offis holdin; in Connecticut it's payin the bonds in gold, interest and principle; in Californy it's anti-Chinese, and in Louisiana, it's Chinese. In Maine, our people are runnin a perhibitory likker law, and everywhere else they're for free whisky. In Illinois Democracy is free trade; in Pennsylvany, it's high protective tariff, and so on round. In short, it's so high mixed that I woodent agree to go from one county to another to make speeches, without having first carefully ascertained wat the Democracy uv that pertickler county believed in.

I got Democratic papers from all the States one day, and by persistant readin uv em for five hours I became so mixed as to be a promisin candidate for a Lunatic asylum.

I shel stay where I am so long ez there is any thing to be got out uv the posishen. I hev personated a Cheerman of Philadelfy committees twice with success; to-morrow I shel try it agin, and after that, sich other characters as may occur to me. I must make hay while the sun shines, for the furious assaults onto Packers pile reducin it fearfully.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY,
(Wich wuz Post Master.)

And now another explanation is given of Byron's separation from his wife. A Missouri paper says that an army officer named Byron accepted service under Gen. Fremont during the war, who was without doubt a son of the poet. According to his story his mother was Spanish lady, to whom Lord Byron was secretly married during his first visit to Spain. He deserted her, and she made no complaint because by the laws of both England and Spain the marriage was illegal and void. Lady Byron found some correspondence with this Spanish lady among her husband's papers, and kept the secret carefully, because it made her morally if not legally the paramour of the poet so long as she remained with him. It is hinted that this was the secret imparted to Dr. Lushington, which caused him to advise the separation. The son was long afterwards bribed to silence by a commission in the East India service. He is said greatly to resemble his father, and this rather improbable story, if true, would explain many things hitherto inexplicable, such as, the poem, "To my Son," and the lock of hair sent by Lord Byron to his mother from Seville. To be sure the poet stopped in Seville only three days, but then the letter to his mother, written just afterwards, affords a lively picture of the social customs of the place from which it is easy to judge that if he did not marry there, he ought to have done so!

Eastern Republican journals are sanguine that Pendleton will be beaten in Ohio, but some of them fear the loss of the Legislature on account of the great number of mixed and independent tickets in the field.

MOVEMENTS AND DOINGS OF NOTABLE MEN.—The San Francisco Times of the 1st, thus notices the departure of Mr. Seward for Mexico:—A large crowd assembled at the Pacific Mail Company's wharf, to-day, upon the sailing of the Golden City, in order to see the last of Mr. Seward. He came down about a half an hour before the steamer cast off, accompanied by Mr. Fred. Seward and wife, Abijah Fitch, Mayor McCoppin and other friends. Soon the old order, "All ashore that's going," was given. Farewells were exchanged; the friends reached the dock, and soon Mr. Seward and party appeared on the hurricane deck of the huge steamship. He was saluted by a great waving of handkerchiefs, which he acknowledged by raising his hat; but as the old gentleman's gray locks fluttered in the wind, the occasion was felt not to be one for a cheer. He was received with cheering and rejoicing; he departed amid sadness and silence.

Major-General George H. Thomas, Commanding the Military Division of the Pacific, went East overland on the 30th ult., accompanied by three aids. He goes to Louisville, Kentucky, for his family which is now at that city. One of the aids will proceed to Washington to carry the General's full report of his observations and inspection in Alaska. It is understood that the General has viewed with considerable disfavor the gradual multiplication of military posts and military forces in Alaska, and his report recommends the consolidation of these posts into one, and the withdrawal of what he considers the superfluity of troops, leaving but two hundred or so in the Territory.

The Bulletin of the 1st says: Yesterday afternoon Vice President Colfax, his wife and sister, Samuel Bowles and wife, Miss Bross and Mrs. Calhoun left on the New World to proceed overland to their Atlantic homes. They intend to remain at Salt Lake next Sunday.

Mayor McCoppin did not accompany Mr. Seward to Mexico. He concluded that it was not right for him to leave his post and give the "Rings" in the Board of Supervisors a chance to put one of themselves in the chair during his absence.

The Red Stockings after playing a series of brilliant games of base ball and cricket, winning every game, have started for home.

John G. Saxe, the celebrated poet, has commenced in San Francisco a series of poetic and prose readings, with crowded audiences.

DROWNED.—About 11 o'clock Tuesday night, Jas. Dougherty, who resided at East Portland, and two other men, started to cross the river from this city in a skiff. During the passage, the boat filled with water and went down under the weight of its load. Dougherty and one of the other men started to swim to the eastern shore, some fifty or sixty yards distant, the third staying with the boat, which was now floating, bottom upward. Dougherty swam a short distance, sank and was drowned. The other swimmer succeeded in reaching the shore. The man who clung to the boat, finally succeeded in righting her and then paddled ashore. The body of Dougherty was recovered at noon yesterday, by drag lines, in deep water, and brought over to this city. He was a member of the Emmet Guard, and his body was taken to the company's armory, from which the funeral services will take place to-day. The deceased was a young man of about twenty-five years, employed in the tannery at East Portland.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT—A HAND TORN TO PIECES.—Yesterday morning, a young man named J. P. Whitman, at work at Carson & Porter's sash and door factory, met with an accident by which he lost all the fingers of his right hand. He was employed at the sash cutting machine—a small shop planer—in dressing the edge of a stile for a sash door. In the course of the work he had occasion to raise the plainer bed, for that purpose turning a small crank just before the plainer head. While doing this his right hand slipped from the crank and struck against the sash blades of the planer head which were revolving with great rapidity. The right finger was taken off at the metacarpal joint, and the other three were terribly broken and lacerated. Dr. Chapman was immediately called, who found it necessary to amputate all the fingers near the upper joints. The hand also had a bad cut longitudinally between the first and second bones. The thumb, fortunately, was uninjured.

NOVELTIES AT THE PORTLAND LIBRARY.—The Directors of the Portland Library have recently made an addition to its attractions which is deserving of note. It consists of a fine revolving stereoscope capable of holding 144 views, and a large, varied and interesting collection of stereoscopic views, numbering over 800, and embracing some 100 of Watkins' views of Portland and Columbia river scenery; about the same number of views in and about Paris and mountain and rural scenery of Europe, together with a large number of views of American scenery, celebrated personages, etc., etc. The instrument and pictures are all of the highest order of merit, and being free to the inspection of all members of the institution; cannot fail of adding to the favor with which it is regarded by our citizens.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR—THIRD DAY.—The morning was cloudy, threatening rain. At noon it cleared up and the afternoon was pleasant. The attendance was twice as large as on the previous day. At 2 P. M. races between Jack Minor and Mother, best three in five; won by Jack Minor. First heat 2:08, second 2:12; Mother shut out on second heat; Jack very heavy. There was quite a display in gentlemen and ladies department—better than heretofore. There was also quite a fine lot of cattle, sheep and hogs. There were some fine cattle belonging to Mr. Stewart, imported from California. The Fair closes to-day.

A RED STOCKING BALL.—Mr. Jos. E. Wiley, last evening, received from Mr. J. W. Sutton, the ball with which the Red Stockings and Pacifics played their late match at San Francisco. It was presented by the Red Stockings, through Mr. Sutton, to the Pioneers, upon the occasion of receiving the Pioneers' invitation to come to Portland. It was accompanied by a long and interesting letter from Mr. Sutton, concerning the manner of playing by the Red Stockings. Their feats as related by him are astonishing. He thinks notwithstanding the Pacifics made only 5 runs in their game, that they are a full match for the Pioneers in their palmiest days.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' COURT.—The County Court met yesterday afternoon and transacted some general business, approved and confirmed the assessment roll for the year 1869, and levies the following tax: State tax, 5 mills; military tax, ½ mill; school tax, 2 mills; county tax, 7 mills; also, special, 1 mill, to pay judgments existing against the county and repairs on the Court House building. Also the usual poll tax of $1 on each resident of the county liable therefor under the statute.

ROBBERY.—Two men entered the cigar store of Johnson & Alender, about 3 o'clock yesterday morning and robbed the premises of $80 coin and a watch valued at $40. Mr. Johnson was aware of the presence of the burglars, but was unable to speak or move, having been, probably, chloroformed. They entered and departed by the back door unmolested. Thus far, no clue to their identity has been discovered.

AMUSEMENTS.—Mr. Phelps, Lessee of Oro Fino Theater, has effected an engagement with Prof. Morey, Wizard and Ventriloquist, and will open the theater on Saturday evening for a series of six performances. Each evening there will be a distribution of gifts. Advertisement with full particulars in a day or two.

REMOVAL OF HEADQUARTERS.—We hear that the headquarters of the Twenty Third Infantry is to be removed from Fort Vancouver to Portland. If this be true, it will bring to this city the commanding officer and the band, the troops remaining on duty as heretofore stationed.

SALE OF PEWS.—Those interested in the sale of pews at the Presbyterian Church for the coming year, will remember that the sale will take place to-day at three o'clock. Persons wishing desirable pews would do well to be present.

TERM OF ABSENCE.—We see by the San Francisco Times that the term of the United States Circuit Court for the District of California, now being held by Judge Deady, is expected to last two months—provided the cases are hurried on.

BOATS EVERY DAY.—The P. T. Co. will dispatch a boat for Salem every day during the continuance of the State Fair. See their new advertisement.

FROM TILLAMOOK.—The schooner J. C. Champion arrived yesterday morning, from Tillamook, with a cargo of dairy and other produce.

REMEMBER.—That on Tuesday evening, October 12th, the Nonpareil Lodge, I. O. G. T., will give a Supper and Sociable at the Hall on First street, between Yamhill and Taylor. Tickets can be obtained at the door.

THEY CRY, AND STILL THEY COME.—It is astonishing, the amount of fine and good Clothing is received every steamer at the store of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 First street. Their Stock of Clothing surpasses any Stock ever imported to this State. Having purchased their Stock in New York, they are enabled to sell cheaper than any House this side of San Francisco. Their Stock of Beaver Suits are the neatest suits ever imported to Oregon. Everybody wanting to appear in Style and buy goods cheap should call on Kohn & Fishel. Their stock of Dry Goods is offered AT COST to close that branch of goods.

Honesty the Basis of Credit.

The recent speech of Senator Sumner at the Massachusetts Republican Convention was briefly alluded to in our telegraphic dispatches; but its leading ideas, especially those relating to finance, deserve to be set forth throughout the whole country with more prominence than was there given them. We therefore present below considerable portions of the speech:

PAYMENT IN GREENBACKS.

A favorite device of repudiation is to pay the national debt in greenbacks—in other words to pay bonds bearing interest with mere promises not bearing interest, violating in the first place, a rule of honesty, which forbids such a trick, and, in the second place, a rule of law, which refuses to recognize an inferior obligation as payment of a superior. Here, in plain terms, is repudiation of the interest and indefinite postponement of the principal. This proposition, when first broached, contemplated nothing less than an infinite issue of greenbacks flooding the country, as France was flooded by assignats, and utterly destroying values of all kinds. Although in its present more moderate form it is limited to payment by existing greenbacks, yet it has the same radical injustice. Interest-bearing bonds are to be paid with non-interest-bearing bits of paper. The statement of the case is enough. Its proposer would never do this thing in his own affairs, but how can he ask his country to do what honesty forbids in private life?

TAXATION ON BONDS.

Another device is to tax the bonds, when the money was lent on the positive condition that the bonds should not be taxed. This, of course, is to break the contract in another way. It is repudiation in another form. To argue these questions is happily unnecessary, and I allude to them only because I wish to exhibit the loss to the country from such attempts. This can be made plain as a church door. And here I must ask attention to [illegible].

EXTRA INTEREST BY SCHEMES OF REPUDIATION.

The total debt of our country on the 1st September, aside from the sixty millions of bonds issued to the Pacific Railway, was $2,475,962,501; and here I mention, with great satisfaction, that since the 1st March last, the debt has been reduced $49,500,000. The surplus revenue now accruing is not less than $100,000,000 a year, and will be, probably, not less than $125,000,000 a year, of which a large sum not less than $75,000,000 must be attributed to the better enforcement of the laws and the economy now prevailing in all departments. And here comes the practical point. Large as is our surplus revenue, it should have been more, and would have been more but for the repudiation menaced by the Democracy. This can be shown easily. If we look at our bonded debt, we find it is now $2,107,936,300, upon which we pay not less than $124,000,000 in annual interest, the larger part at six per cent., the smaller at five per cent. gold. The difference between this interest and that paid by other Powers is the measure of our annual loss. English Three per cents and French Fours are firm in the market, but England and France have not the same inexhaustible resources that are ours; nor is either so secure in its Government. It is easy to see that our debt could have been funded without paying more than four per cent., but for the doubt cast upon our credit by the dishonest schemes of repudiators. "Payment in greenbacks" and "taxation of bonds" are costly cries. Without these there would have been $40,000,000 to swell our surplus revenue. But this sum, if invested in a sinking fund at four per cent. interest, would pay the whole bonded debt in less than thirty years. Such is our annual loss. This sum total of this loss directly chargeable upon the repudiators is more than one hundred millions [illegible] and much I fear, fellow-citizens, that before the nation can recover from the discredit inflicted upon it, another hundred millions will be paid in the same way. It is hard to see this immense treasure, wrung by taxation from the toil of the people, to pay these schemes of a dishonest Democracy. Do not forget, that the cost of this experiment is confined to no particular class. Wherever the tax-gatherer goes there it is paid. Every workman pays it in his food and clothing; every mechanic and artisan in his tools; every housewife in her cooking stove and flat-iron; every merchant in the stamp upon his note; every man of salary in the income tax; nay, even every laborer in his wood, his coal, his potatoes and his salt. Many of these taxes imposed under duress of war will be removed soon I trust; but still the enormous sum of $40,000,000 annually must be contributed by the labor of the country until the world is convinced that in spite of Democratic menace, the Republic will maintain its plighted faith to the end. People wish to reduce taxation. I tell you how. Be honest. Let no doubt rest upon the public faith. Then will the present burdensome taxation grow small by degrees and beautifully less. It is the doubt which costs. It is with our country as with an individual, the doubt obliges the payment of extra interest. To stop that extra interest we must keep faith.

ABSURDITY AND AGGRAVATION.

As we look at the origin of the greenback we shall find a new motive for fidelity. I do not speak of that patriotic character which commends the national debt; but of the financial principle on which the greenback was first issued. It came from the overwhelming exigencies of self-defence. The national existence depended on money which could be had only through a forced loan. The greenback was the agency by which it was collected. The disloyal party resisted the passage of the original act, prophesying danger and difficulty. But the safety of the nation required the risk, and the Republican party assumed it. And now this [illegible] party turns against the greenback, insisting upon continuing in peace what was justified only in war—insisting upon a forced loan, when the overwhelming exigencies of self-defence have [illegible] and the nation is saved. To such absurdity is this party now driven. The case is aggravated when we consider the boundless resources of the country, through which in a short time even this great debt will be lightened, if the threats of repudiation are silenced. Peace, financially as well as politically, is needed. Let us have peace. Nowhere will it be felt more than at the South, which is awakening to a consciousness of resources unknown while slavery ruled. With these considerable additions to the national [illegible] without a sensible [illegible] of our burdens. A rate of taxation [illegible] equal to half of that of 1866, will pay [illegible] all present expenses and the entire principal, in less than [illegible] to this end we must keep faith.

[illegible]

The argument is aggravated still further when it is considered that repudiation is impossible. Try as you may you cannot succeed. You may cause incalculable distress and postpone the great day of peace but you cannot do this thing. The national debt never can be repudiated. It will be paid, dollar for dollar, in coin, with interest to the end. How little do these repudiators know the mighty resisting power which they encounter! How little the mighty crash which they invite. As well undertake to remove Mount Washington from its everlasting base, or shut out the ever-present ocean from our coasts. It is needless to say that the crash would be in proportion to the [illegible], being nothing less than the whole business of the country. Now, it appears from investigations making at this moment by Commissioner Wells, whose labors shed such light on our financial questions, that our annual product reaches the sum of seven thousand millions of dollars. But this enormous amount depends for its value upon exchange, which in turn depends upon credit. Destroy exchange, and even these untold resources would be an infinite chaos, without form and void. Employment would cease, capital would waste, mills would stop, the rich would become poor, the poor, I fear, would starve. Savings banks, trust companies, insurance companies, would disappear. Such would be the mighty crash; but here you see also the mighty resisting power. Therefore again do I say, repudiation is impossible. Mr. Boutwell is criticised by the Democracy because he buys up bonds at the current market rates, when he should pay the face in greenbacks. Very well. Suppose the Secretary, yielding to these wise suggestions, should announce his purpose to take up $10,000,000 of five-twenties, paying the face in greenbacks. What then? "After us the deluge," said a French King; and so after such notice from our Secretary, would our deluge come. At once our entire bonded debt would be reduced to greenbacks. The greenbacks would not be raised; the bond would be drawn down. On the purchase of the $10,000,000 the nation would save $2,000,000; but the holders would lose the difference between present rates and par, being 20 per cent. on $1,600,000,000. All this at once. But who can measure the consequences? Bonds would be thrown upon the market. From all points of the compass, at home and abroad, they would come. Business would be disorganized. The fountains of the great deep would be broken up and the deluge would be upon us.

The death of Mr. Spiers, aged 62, a gentleman whom for many years devoted his energies to public instructions in France, is recorded. He was well known to the British public as an author of an excellent French and English dictionary, and various other works which have been adopted by the Universities of France. His services were recompensed only a twelvemonth ago by the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

VARIETIES.

"From Maine to Texas" is now superseded by the words—"From Florida to Alaska."

A dam having been built in Rock River, Illinois, a moral paper near by speaks of it as "our profane improvement."

The Minnesota Republicans nominated a Swede for Secretary of State. The candidate Hans Mattsen, was put forward by the Scandinavian Convention, which met a few weeks ago, as their representative man.

The Schuylkill must have been very dry of late, as a Philadelphia paper represents the catfish in the Schuylkill as swimming about with tin cups in their mouth, begging for a drink. The flood reported by telegram must have wrecked the tin cups.

A Hartford four-year-old saw his parents preparing for church, and asked them to take him along with them. He was told that he must wait till he should get bigger. "Well," returned he, "you'd better take me now, for when I get bigger I may not want to go." The parents saw the point and he was taken.

An Arab chief was taken to the opera at Marseilles, where superior music was given in a superior manner. He listened and looked with great attention, and, on being asked what most excited his admiration, replied by pointing to the trombone player and saying, "To see that Christian there swallow so much brass. I cannot yet comprehend where he puts it."

Medical.

HIRAM SMITH'S Ophthalmic Panacea

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered. It CURES the most stubborn and [illegible] CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED [illegible] FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been before the public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE [illegible] FUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eye no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or [illegible] the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, [illegible] and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in [illegible] Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness.

K. B. MOORE	NATHANIEL [illegible]
A. L. WALLACE,	G. E. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY	JOHN M. [illegible]
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing [illegible] eased eyes are advised to give this remedy a [illegible] the NO CURE NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REME[illegible]

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering great [illegible] ence from the effects of secret indulgences, or [illegible] absorbed into the system! Look at their [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down [illegible] tions, disqualifying them for the happiness [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid [illegible] wretches suffer until death closes the scene. Let guardians, friends, attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying maladies [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late, [illegible] them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, who has [illegible] made private disease his especial study for years [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without [illegible] pury or any injurious drugs. It is important [illegible] who are afflicted, or to those who are interested [illegible] welfare of their friends, to be careful of the [illegible] tended doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore careful [illegible] strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands [illegible] charlatans.

From Samuel Cassidy, Editor Journal [illegible] Petaluma, California.

For about twenty years I had used [illegible] tious forms, and for the past eight years [illegible] inveterate smoker. Becoming satisfied [illegible] sive use of this narcotic was seriously [illegible] health, I determined if possible to check [illegible] habit. Hearing of Orton's Preparation [illegible] the appetite for Tobacco, I sent to Portland [illegible] box of the medicine, which I received [illegible] on the 17th of November. A month [illegible] yet the medicine has effectually relieved [illegible] yearning or desire to use Tobacco [illegible] Preparation is not more difficult or [illegible] than to commence chewing gum. I [illegible] lieve the Preparation will have the [illegible] effect in every instance where it is [illegible] Upon that belief and from an honest desire [illegible] who wish to break away from the [illegible] Tobacco I offer this testimonial.
